BARRE DAILY TIMES

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Subscription: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts. single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 18, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,450

The sun has been kindly to the veterans these two days.

Vice President Fairbanks may yet depart from the state with the impression that he has the state in his vest pocket.

The local traction company has set a commendable example of promptness in making an advance payment on the street pavement.

A heavy spike was driven in the trading stamp coffin the other day when twelve Rutland grocers agreed to give up the use of trading stamps for a five years' period beginning August 15 last. This, however, does not prevent individual merchants redeeming any rebate or check or their own. The penalty clause of $500 for violation of the agreement looks formidable, but the threat is probably the worst thing about it. A penalty in connection with such agreements is more formal than real. Yet it may serve to keep in line some who might be apt to waver.

The drift of population from the East to the West is still going on, but there are indications that the West—that is, what is called West—is pulling up stakes and going farther west. Iowa, for instance, has actually decreased in population during the past five years, if the census is accurately taken. In 1900 the population was given as 2,231,853. The figures for 1905, just completed, give only 2,216,068, a falling off of over fifteen thousand. Located in the heart of the rich agricultural districts, Iowa is in a position to thrive, and it may be thriving. But that the population is falling off is apparent. Farming does not appeal to all classes, however, and Iowa may be about to experience the same exodus of its population that Vermont had in the middle of the nineteenth century.

A NEW TRACK RECORD.

Snyder McGregor Went Mile in 2.09 at Poughkeepsie.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 18.—After a lapse of two days due to the rainy weather, the grand circuit meeting was resumed at the Hudson River Driving Park yesterday afternoon with five splendid races.

Four of the races were won by favorites, all in fact excepting the last race, the 2.04 mile, which had six starters. The betting at the outset was out up, although Laconda was made favorite at $25. Nathan Strauss selling for $5, King Direct for $5 and the field for $5. There was the sharpest racing of the day in this event, the first and third heats of which went to Nathan Strauss, while Laconda took the second. In all three heats Nathan Strauss, Laconda and Nervolo were one two, three.

Snyder McGregor's mile in 2.09 that makes a new trotting race record for the track, being quarter of a second faster than Kidd Shay's fast mile on Monday.

Susie N's mile in 2.15 in the 2.30 trot is a new track record for three-year-old trotters.

FAVORS EIGHT HOUR DAY.

Committee of Typesetters Recommends a Strike If It Is Not Granted.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 18.—At the afternoon session of the International Typographical Union, the eight hour committee presented its report, which endorses the eight-hour campaign now being waged and recommends a strike on January 1, 1906, against employers who do not accept the new hours laid down by the union. Samuel Gompers commends the stand taken on the eight-hour question.

LIKE A MEDIEVAL CASTLE.

Subterranean Passages, Secret Staircase and Vaulted Chambers.

New York, Aug. 18.—Subterranean passages, leading from a secret staircase to stone vaulted chambers beneath the old Tilden mansion in Gramercy park, have been brought to light by the contractors engaged in tearing out and remodeling the structure, which is now under course of transformation into the home for the national Arts club. Many other peculiarities exist in the mansion which must have been the conception of Samuel J. Tilden himself, and which have remained undiscovered up to this day, although the famous old dwelling has housed many tenants since his removal to Greystone in 1879, where he died in August 1886.

There is a legend among the old time residents of the neighborhood that Tilden, who roused a host of enemies by the part he took in the exposure of the "Tweed Ring," had a fear of secret assassination and built his house accordingly.
